FIRST FORMAL TALK ON PEACE TODAY

President and Col. House Meet Premiers This Afternoon to Settle Details of Preliminary Conference. Paris, Jan. 9.—Premier Clemenceau has made an engagement to confer with Colonel E. M. House, of the American peace mission, at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon, just before the time set for the scheduled conference of President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau, Premier Orlando of Italy, A. J. Palfour, the British foreign secretary, and Colonel House, himself, at the foreign office.

The engagement was arranged by telephone, the premier's secretary acting for him. It was regarded as likely that after a brief talk Premier Clemenceau and Colonel House would then drive across the Seine from the Chillon to the foreign office, a trip of but five minutes' duration.

This conference is the first formal meeting preparatory to the actual peace preliminary. One of the objects is to select the exact date for the opening of the preliminaries next week.

So pliable were the arrangements for the conference, however, that it was explained that the plans for the meeting might be broken up before the hour of meeting.

President Wilson spent the morning making a study of data turned over to him by Colonel House. This deals with general plans for the preliminaries. Late yesterday he visited the (rillon hotel where he talked at length with Secretary Lansing and Colonel House. The latter conference lasted over an hour.

OLIVE JUDGMENTS DO NOT STAND

A few days before returning from office County Judge Jenkins handed down a decision on two cases on appeal which is of interest to many prospective litigants. Julius Forstmann, the defendant in both cases, appealed from judgments recovered against him respectively by Frank Smith and William Bunce, rendered by a justice of the peace of the town of Denning. Plaintiffs both resided in Kingston city and the defendant resided at Passaic, N. J., and was at the time in the town of Denning.

The court held that the actions could have been properly brought in a town adjoining Kingston, or in the town of Denning, but could not be brought in the town of Olive before a justice of the peace, the defendant being a non-resident of Olive. Therefore the judgments do not stand.

TAXPAYERS HAVE LARGE MEETING

Fully one hundred members of the Taxpayers' Association of the City of Kingston attended the annual meeting, held Wednesday evening at Meadler's Hall, 635 Broadway, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Jay Terry, president; Fred C. Winter, 1st vice-president; Louis Keger, 2nd vice-president; William Haver, 3rd vice-president; George W. Anderson, treasurer; John T. Cahill, secretary; Francis C. Merritt, counsel. Committees were appointed to look into the question of milk supply, the Broadway crossing matter, city charter amendments, and other tax saving propositions. 25 new members were reported. Ice cream and cake was served after the business session. The Association requests that every taxpayer man and woman enroll and help in the work planned. The Association members are proud of what has been accomplished in saving money for users of gas and electricity.

NIGHT SCHOOL OPENS TONIGHT

Superintendent M. J. Michael of the Board of Education will be at the High School to-night at 7:30 to receive and enroll the new students for the night classes in elementary subjects and those young persons who desire to attend these classes must enroll to-night at the High School. The greater part of this evening will be taken up in the distribution of books and other supplies and in enrolling the classes but with all the probabilities the first persons will be admitted in preparation for the opening to-morrow night when the school will be well under way so enrollment to-night is highly essential. The classes will be held three evenings of each week on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 throughout the regular school term. This school, a long needed addition to the educational work of the city will afford those unable to attend day school an opportunity of advancing themselves in the with the necessary elementary subjects used in all paths of life.

HIKE OF THE 51ST PIONEER INFANTRY

Bigler, of Company M Writes of The March Into Germany and The Feather Beds and Good Food Along the Way.

Knight of Columbus War Activities. Somewhere in Germany. Quint, Dec. 5, 1918.

Dear Parents:—Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and enjoying myself very much. I am now in Germany in a village (Dort) called Quint in the neighborhood of Trier. I think this part of Germany is called the Rhineland. We are right along the Moselle river. The country is very nice along this river, and I never saw so many grape vines before in my life. We hiked three days and saw graves all along the whole distance. The Germans are treating us very good. We stopped at a place called Karchaus, and we could not get away from them, they simply insisted on us staying with them overnight. A sergeant and myself slept in a real feather bed; we had supper and they also treated us to some schnapps for a night cap, and in the morning I had an eye-opener and then breakfast, it seems that they like the American soldier very much, they do anything for him. We arrived at Quint the 4th. I was sent on ahead with a sergeant to get quarters for about 70 men and I think I was very lucky. I was told that I could have my choice of two buildings and I picked a Casino and believe me they are very good, and seem to be satisfactory to all.

I received a letter from Corporal Canfield today and he says he is getting along fine. I have heard from John about two weeks ago, he is safe and is enjoying good health and was very glad to hear that. Frank Kraus wrote me and said that he and Leo Krenkloski were in England. Tell Leo's mother that I heard from him and also tell Frank's sister that I heard from Frank. My only trouble over here will be the German money. I can't seem to get on to the (planning) or the (groschen), but otherwise there is nothing to bother me, because I can speak the German language pretty good. I am my lieutenant's interpreter.

Well I think I have said about enough for this time, hoping you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Your loving son, FRANK.

The people had their St. Nicholas feast last night. I was there.

Dec. 8, 1918.

Dear Parents:—Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and happy. I am happy because I have just received a big lot of mail from Kingston and other places. I received a letter from Mayor Meagher, our former captain who is still in Camp Wadsworth, S. C. He told me he was tickled to hear that I received a commendation from my colonel and he also wished me lots of good luck while here. I also received a letter from Mr. Schoonmaker and some pictures of the launching of the steamer Esopus. He congratulates me on my little grand helping one of my comrades. I suppose the people were doing some tall talking about my letter from the colonel, but there is no use of talking about anything like that. I only did my duty as I knew it had to be done. My only hope is that he will come home to his wife and also to his parents. One of the boys received a letter from Kingston, stating he was back in the states already, but such is not the case, that letter was dated the first part of November and I received one from him (Canfield) dated November 20, I think there is some mistake about him being in the states. Jimmy as I call him, is not in the hospital at Toul, but has been removed to some hospital near the coast and from what he tells me, it will not be long before he will get out of France, but he may be shifted to England.

I am very sorry that I haven't a good picture of myself to give to Mr. Canfield, and to Julia's wife, but when I get back I will give her one that is better than those that I have.

You sent me a double letter the first part was meant for John, but the second part was meant for me. I will send it to him the next time that I hear from him.

I can imagine the noise and all the racket that was made when the news of the signing of the armistice arrived in the good old U. S. A. Well I celebrated the event over here. We had seven bottles of champagne between four of us, that is not so bad, is it?

Well we are now in Germany and believe me I can say that I have walked the whole distance from Toul in France to a little village called Quint, where we are now. We started out on our hike on November 16 to a place called Buxelles, here we stopped over night, the following morning we went to Hausenau and on the 15th of November we went to Monville near the Alsatian border. The next two days we rested and made little to do. November 21 we left Monville for Trier, and the following day we went into Lorraine and stopped at a place called Esch-sur-Sure, and stayed overnight in a place called Wellingmeyer, here a sergeant and I slept in a real feather bed. The next day we continued our hike and landed in the state of Luxembourg in the village of Aepfl. We were here eight days.

WALTON AND BRINK IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

Senator Chairman of Codes Committee and on Others—Brink on Four Assembly Committees.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Albany, Jan. 9 (Special).—Few senators were as signally honored by Majority Leader Walters of the senate as Senator Walton who was today named to important senate committees. Senator Walton has been named chairman of the senate committee on codes and assigned in addition to the committees on judiciary, civil service and rules. The committee on judiciary as well as the committee on rules are regarded as the most important committees of the upper house, the committee on finance excepted.

On the assembly side, Assemblyman Brink was assigned to the committee on education, taxation and retrenchment and banks. Considerable legislation amending the banking law is expected this session, in that State Superintendent Skinner of the bank department has urged certain measures in relation to his department.

RED CROSS MAKING NURSING SURVEY

Under Direction Secretary of War—Headquarters Here and County Representatives—These Qualified Expected to Call For Questionnaires.

Under the direction of the secretary of war the American Red Cross is conducting a nation wide survey of the nursing resources of the country to determine the number of persons qualified to render aid in the care of wounded soldiers and the civilian population.

The government desires to register those who have had nursing experience and those who are able to assist trained nurses and to know how the nursing service is distributed and where it is needed.

While the survey is conducted from Washington, Dr. E. C. Myers is in charge of the work for the Atlantic Division. To complete this survey every chapter of the American Red Cross has appointed a nurse survey committee. For the Ulster County Chapter George Washburn is the executive secretary of this committee with offices at 576 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. All correspondence relating to the survey should be addressed to him.

A survey is being made of every city, village and rural community in the county, and where necessary a house to house canvass is made in order to place a printed questionnaire in the hands of all persons covered by the survey of whom knowledge is received.

The woman who fills out a questionnaire is not in any sense obligated to do anything she does not wish to do. The survey does not involve war service.

Any one wishing to enroll in the nursing survey will have to make out an entirely distinct application for such work.

The survey is for the purpose of registering trained nurses, practice nurses, domestic nurses, pupil nurses, trained hospital attendants and cross-men who have taken Red Cross courses.

In various towns the nursing survey committee of the chapter is represented by Mrs. Hart S. Fuller, Miss J. W. Blakey, Highland; Miss I. Palmer, Marlborough; Miss E. Phinell, Wallkill; Mrs. J. B. Harrison, Gardiner; C. Keller, Walker Valley; Mrs. William L. Finley, Saugerties; Mrs. Frank J. Peter, New Paltz; Mrs. Lionel Booth, Ellenville; Miss Alice Owen, Woodstock; Mrs. C. V. Hasbrouck, Rosendale; Mrs. Fred Davis, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Tenkryk, Hurley; Mrs. DeWitt, Schuylers; Mrs. Shawankunk, Miss Anna G. Crowell, Shams; Miss Alice O'Connor, Eddyville.

The survey is conducted by giving to each person covered by it a printed questionnaire, which is returned after it is filled in to the surveyor or it is mailed to the district representative and by that person to the executive secretary of the Nursing Survey Committee.

It is the patriotic duty of every one to call for a questionnaire. If in the city of Kingston at 576 Broadway, if in the county upon the district representative, and by that person to the executive secretary of the Nursing Survey Committee.

It is the patriotic duty of every one to call for a questionnaire. If in the city of Kingston at 576 Broadway, if in the county upon the district representative, and by that person to the executive secretary of the Nursing Survey Committee.

Additional names may be secured through doctors, druggists, charitable organizations, and the various educational boards of health, boards of education, manufacturing employing trained attendants, nurses, midwives, and other organizations, and the work of the survey will be greatly facilitated if these individuals and organizations will send to the executive secretary the names of persons in whom a questionnaire should be sent.

The Nursing Survey Committee has given each district representative the names of persons covered by the survey and of whom they have knowledge. Additional names may be secured through doctors, druggists, charitable organizations, and the various educational boards of health, boards of education, manufacturing employing trained attendants, nurses, midwives, and other organizations, and the work of the survey will be greatly facilitated if these individuals and organizations will send to the executive secretary the names of persons in whom a questionnaire should be sent.

While the survey was commenced prior to the ending of the war it will be continued until a complete record of the country's nursing service is obtained. The Nursing Survey Committee asks the support and cooperation of the general public, whom efforts alone will make the survey successful or unsuccessful.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

PRIVATE JOHN DOWD.

Doing guard duty at Camp Merritt recently, honorably discharged and at his home, No. 190 Broadway, this city.

James Keefe, recently discharged from the army at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, has returned to his studies at college.

James Halliday, who recently arrived from the battlefields of France is spending a sick leave with his parents on Lucas avenue, this city.

Private Russell J. Burke, who has been stationed at Camp Jackson, S. C. has received his honorable discharge from the service and is now back on his old job at Millen Aikenhead, on Greenkill avenue.

Ralph Schoonmaker, a student in the officers' training school at Pelham Bay Naval Training Station, has been released from active service in the Naval Reserve and returned to his home in this city.

Ensign John H. Matthews Jr., of the U. S. S. Morroneau, who has been on a trip overseas, has been spending a few days at his home, No. 220 East Union street, has returned to his ship and expects to sail for Austria.

Clyde Townsend of Pine Hill, Emil Hilfer of Shandaken and Earl Miller of Accord, recently discharged from the U. S. Army, have returned to their homes after visiting Private Townsend's friend, Miss Isaac Ellis, 110 Gaze street.

William T. Salzmann, of 43 Broadway street, a member of the Quartermasters' Corp, stationed at Camp E. Johnson, Jacksonville, Fla., for several months, has been honorably discharged from the U. S. Army and has returned home.

William G. Newkirk, a former mail carrier on the local post office force, and who was wounded in the leg with shrapnel while in action on the Toul front last summer, has entirely recovered from his wounds and is reported in a transportation camp in France awaiting his turn to return to the U. S.

Frank McKenna of Main street, this city, received word from his son, Joseph, that he is now in London, England, with the Destroyer Fleet and expects to arrive in the U. S. some time this month. Since his enlistment in the army in June of 1917, McKenna has been in France, Italy and England with Uncle Sam's fleet and has been far in the thick of the submarine warfare in the foreign war zone waters.

McKenna was for a time on the army line in France, making two round trips to France before coming over permanently with the destroyer force, with which he has been connected since last May.

MAJ. GEN. BELL DEAD IN NEW YORK

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Jan. 9.—Major General J. Franklin Bell, commander of the Department of the East, died suddenly of heart disease at the Presbyterian Hospital late last night. General Bell was taken to the hospital three days ago for observation, but it was not realized that his condition was serious, and his death came as a surprise. He was 63 years old and a native of Shelbyville, Ky.

General Bell was a West Pointer class of 1878. He was a lieutenant in the Seventh Cavalry in the Indian campaign when part of that famous regiment fought the Battle of Wounded Knee in December, 1890. He served ably in the Spanish War and the Philippines, was chief of staff of the army from 1906 to 1910 and trained the 77th Division (New York National Army) at Camp Upton in the world war. After returning from France he was made commander of the Eastern Department.

EBERT'S TROOPS PUTTING DOWN BERLIN RADICALS

Spartacides Driven From Streets and Besieged in Buildings—Government Controls Railways and Printing Offices—Fighting Continues.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Berlin, Jan. 8. (via Copenhagen, Jan. 9).—German troops, supporting the Ebert government, entered Berlin today and drove back the Spartacides.

The troops came from Potsdam. There was a struggle at the offices of the Wolff bureau where four loyal soldiers were killed.

The Spartacides troops were driven from Tiergarten and adjacent streets. Heavy forces of government reinforcements are en route to the city.

As this dispatch was filed the loyal forces were fighting to recapture the buildings that the Spartacides had occupied.

The Spartacides were ejected from the government printing offices after a sharp fight.

The fighting is constant. Several shots were fired at the Danish Red Cross building.

The building occupied by the "Red Flag," the newspaper organ of the radicals, was occupied by loyal troops after a hard struggle. The Spartacides defending the place barricaded themselves behind rolls of printing paper.

The governments' position was strengthened during the day and at six o'clock this evening traffic was recommenced on the urban railways. Troops—both regulars and volunteers—are coming up to support the government. All are well equipped.

The Verwaerts, the official organ of the Socialists, which had been seized by the Reds, made its reappearance today as a loyal newspaper.

The paper was printed secretly. The extremists had threatened to call a general strike if the loyalists succeeded in occupying the Verwaerts plant.

The newspaper, Allgemeine Zeitung, which had been seized by the Spartacides, was today being carried away from the scene.

The German government was said to have issued an ultimatum saying it would not treat with the Spartacides until all except actual soldiers were disarmed.

Dispatches from sources close to the government were conflicting today. On Wednesday the advice said that the government had gained the upper hand and that a truce had been declared. Today's report indicated that further fighting was indicated that the Spartacides evacuate all of the buildings they have seized, that they have occupied and that Eichhorn, the chief of police, yield to the order of dismissal.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Geneva, Jan. 9.—Measures of an "extremely severe" nature will be taken by the Entente if the troubles in Berlin continue, according to reports current in official circles in Munich today.

(Munich is the capital of Bavaria.)

Amsterdam, Jan. 9.—Allied troops are on their way to occupy Berlin at the request of Chancellor Ebert, according to a report in circulation in Berlin at noon today.

Respectfully yours, WM. C. DEWITT, Acting Postmaster.

At post offices where the compensation more than $2400 per annum the competition is raised on the subjects of education and training and experience. At post offices in this group a careful personal investigation is made of each applicant by representatives of the commission, one of whom is selected by the commission from the post office department and such representatives make report of their investigation direct to the commission.

The investigation and report cover two purposes, namely, first, full inquiry as to each candidate's suitability for the office by reason of his character and personal characteristics. This part of the inquiry is noncompetitive, and not considered in the rating of the candidate, but if he is found unsuitable by the commission as a result of such inquiry, he is of course declared not eligible.

The second purpose of the investigation is the same careful personal inquiry from persons best qualified to know of the business qualifications, ability, and experience of each candidate. The report of each inquiry being confined to finding facts and made a part of the evidence and record upon which the commission rates the candidate.

The name of the highest eligible is submitted to the president for appointment, unless he is disqualified by the character or residence of such applicant disqualifies him for appointment. The method of selection and appointment of postmasters at present dates from 1879, when it was found that the system of good men nomination, but the persons appointed as a result of such nominations do not attract a high service rating and are not eligible for any other position in the commission's classified service.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Jan. 9.—The port of New York is practically paralyzed today as the result of a strike of practically 12,500 marine workers. The city and its environs face a situation which is believed by many to be the most precarious in its history.

Three thousand additional boat captains, mates, engineers, firemen, water tenders, deck hands engaged on harbor craft in the Sound or at sea, are expected to strike during the day. A vote will be taken by 6,000 longshoremen tomorrow to determine if they will walk out in a sympathetic strike.

Thousands of commuters from New Jersey and other nearby localities are greatly delayed in coming to the city today through the stopping of all ferry service.

Nearly a dozen ports in New Jersey where New York's coal supply is dependent are completely tied up and no coal started for the city this morning. There, four, five and the Hudson tubes in New Jersey have been placed under strict police guard to prevent violence.

As soon as the situation became evident arrangements were made by naval officials to bring in the four transports, due here today, with coal and supplies with navy tug boats. The navy tug boats are being engaged in conveying the coal from the Hudson tubes to the city. The Hudson tubes are being engaged in conveying the coal from the Hudson tubes to the city.

He Knows Poultry.

L. M. HURD.

Mr. Hurd, who will give the work in poultry at the five day farm demonstration school to be held in Grange Hall at Stone Ridge, January 13-17, inclusive, is first of all, a practical chicken man. He owns a poultry farm at Wilbraham, Mass., which he personally operates during his vacation. Mr. Hurd was born in Morris, Conn., and his early life was spent on a farm. In 1907-08 and in 1908-09, he took the winter courses in poultry at Cornell University.
Since 1909 he has been one of the most successful workers on the extension staff of the poultry department of the state college of agriculture.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 9, 1919.

The Sinn Féiners, who ought to call themselves the Incurable Kickers, have blown up a monument in Cork to the memory of Irish soldiers lost in the late war thus sensationally demonstrating that they are still on the side of Germany.

GOVERNMENT MATCH-MAKING

Two or three months ago the news came that Bolshevik government had decreed not only that young women on reaching the age of 18 should pick out the men of their choice but that the chosen men should not have the right to refuse to wed. It was easy for anybody but a Bolshevik freak to imagine the unpleasant consequences—young men going about like hunted beasts, fearing to meet a woman's eye lest she prove to be a husband-unwilling lying in wait to pounce, so to speak.

It was foreseen that such an upsetting of the laws of nature would run upon frequent snags, for man is an inventive animal and the young Russian would be likely to find means to outwit a lady kidnapper even with Bolshevik law on her side. It is no surprise, therefore, to hear that the town council of Petrograd has come to aid of unsuccessful husband-catchers by ruling that "all unmarried women between the ages of 18 and 45 shall be provided with husbands selected by the council." In other words, in order to make a success of the kidnapping, the government itself will take a hand in the extraordinary performance. It is added that the children of these forced unions "shall not be allowed to remain with their parents—a good thing for the hapless children—and are to be educated under the control of the government." But the "government" will hardly last that long, for surely Russia will come to its senses after a while and proceed to sit on the neck of its freaks.

PICKING A PRINCESS.

America's shared one after-war problem which confronts England and is now causing no little concern there. We haven't got to pick a princess with anxious care necessitated by the fact that she will be our future queen. The wives of our future presidents of this generation may now be high or low in the social scale. It does not matter: we know that when they go into the White House they will not disgrace us, and that the main thing is to elect the right kind of a man as president. But in England the choice of a Princess of Wales, a Queen-to-be, is a very important matter, and the Prince of Wales who must soon take a wife, faces unusual difficulties. Formerly the thing was much easier, because there were 29 sovereign states in Germany each with a royal family with daughters eligible to become the wives of kings. But the war has changed all that. German royalty will long remain under a cloud even where it manages not to become extinct and, moreover, the British public would not now suffer the election of a German princess.

Of course there are many princesses in Europe other than German, but most of them are Catholic and the English constitution bars these. What, then, is the wife-hunting Prince of Wales to do? Two suggestions have been made. More than a year ago H. G. Wells and other prominent Englishmen protested against the further importation of Anglicized royalty with the inevitable embarrassment often of a serious nature when the countries allied in royal marriage go to war. A suggestion to the British custom of former centuries was loudly called for—the old custom of an English king choosing a wife from the noble families of his own realm. Henry VIII. when such comments as were given them usually talked in the first place and usually discussing them in a cutting off their heads in the last place. Of course nobody wishes to make the father son picture of a line of Henry VIII. there being a demand for the choice of a wife from the English nobility—a custom which formerly worked well, especially in case three and so on. It is much to be said in the fact.

Another suggestion is that the can bridge the enthusiasm on both sides of the Atlantic would be unbounded, and dramatic possibilities would be opened up. The example would be infectious, and there is no telling where the consequences would end. The last statement unintentionally voices the chief objection to the plan. The example might indeed be an "infectious" that nearly every American believes to great fortune would carry her wealth to England. There has been too much of this already. Public sentiment is opposed to the piling up of "swollen fortunes" at all but if they are piled up the gold on heap should remain or be spent in our midst. Moreover, the production of American wives of kings and nobles on a large scale would tend to do injury to our republican institutions. The proposal is not altogether unprecedented, however, the wife of one of the later Kings of Portugal having been an American girl.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Knowledge is power." "And I suppose the public library is the power house."—Kansas City Journal.

"He—'Maria, it may be that we will have to pay a tax on the cook.' 'She—'Which one?'—Baltimore American.

Cashier: "I hear the Old Man is writing the story of his life." Bill Clerk: "On an adding machine."—Buffalo Express.

"May I kiss you?" "Mother's in the next room." "Well, she will stay there a long time before I kiss her."—Boston Transcript.

Ace (relating experience): "I had flown three miles over the German lines when I found that my engine was missing." The Girl: "Mercy! How could you fly so far without any engine?"—Boston Transcript.

"Have the boys in Crimson Gulch quit drinking?" "Yes," replied Bronco Bob. "Then where do all the bottles come from that are smashed in the road?" "They're the proof. An empty bottle is a sure sign somebody has quit drinking. Some folks quit over an' over again."—Washington Star.

High Time.

"Look here, Tomlinson," said the officer, "this is getting to be too much of a good thing. You're already had leave because your wife was scared of air raids, because your little girl had bronchitis, because you had to go to your mother-in-law's funeral, and because your youngest boy was being christened. Now, what reason have you this time?" Private Tomlinson was quite unabashed.

"If you please, sir," he replied brightly, "I'm going to be married!"—London Tit-Bits.

Days, Not Hours.

The railroads were tied up with the worst freight glut in history. The train was 57 hours late and he was weary.

"Get me something so that I can figure out when I will get to New York," he commanded the colored porter.

"Yes, sah, I'll get you a timetable," replied the porter.

"Timetable? Timetable? What I want is a calendar."—Continental.

Willie Knew.

Mother had hauled Willie up before her on the carpet, and was giving him a wigging about his behavior when they were out.

"I was ashamed of you, Willie," said mother, "to see you dust the chair you sat on at Mrs. Huffy's."

"Yes and I saw him, too," replied Willie indignantly, "I'm too old to be caught with a bent pin!"—London Answers.

Worked Four Hours.

A visitor to the business office was being shown round.

"How long has that clerk been working for you," he queried, indicating one.

"About four hours," replied the visitor.

"I seem to remember him," answered the visitor, "I thought he had been here longer than that."

"So he has. He's been here for four months."—London Answers.

WAVE SENDS NEWS OF ULSTER CO. BOYS

"First Fiddville Soldier in France" Has Had a Lively Time With the Engineers and Meets Many Boys
From Home.

The following letters were received by Eugene Wayne 66 Pearl Street from his son First Class Private Thomas P. Wayne with the 2nd Infantry in France a regiment in which a score or more of Uster County men served.

Students of Columbus
Nov. 24, 1918

Suppose you have already read about clothes, do something new. Look at the list. May I send some. I had to be reminded to do you. I suppose to go to the clothing for you were all the time when it was your day. I love you from my heart and sincerely hope you re-

When told we were back at the camp and looking the worse for wear, we were heartily welcomed. The first thing we did was to look after all kinds of running about. We are back on our way. The first thing we did was to look after all kinds of running about. We are back on our way. The first thing we did was to look after all kinds of running about. We are back on our way.

"I've got received the German helmet I had you some time ago. Pop! Come out, nothing was the day I got that old one. Sure had the birds on us and didn't understand how we came out alive. That's all in the game. I see that's magnificent. Some snow distance from Jerry" was just on the other side the hill and he was a close birdy times. We are now in the old German rifle to of Venezuela a little distance to the south of St. Michel. After about a half hour's drive, where Highway 20 and Highway 100 are on the left, we arrived at the Rules. So in that time we had seen the lake and come to go. My first experience after the war February 5, 1944, did not come in the sand and line trenches and things were whizzing some believe in supply here and some road during the war. But to our way, the Venezuelans were able to reach the car and drive back, which seemed strangely to me as the St. Michel drive. We were that day and night, much of the top of the university, rich of some of the galleries. It was until I came home to see such kind as it will end better.

BUSINESS SCIENCE SOCIETY TONIGHT

The second meeting of the Kingston Chapter of the Business Science Society will be called tonight at 8 o'clock in the main reception room of the Y. M. C. A., and all members are urged to be there as Loyal S. Wright will deliver his second of a series of lectures to the society. These lectures will continue for six months with one at each meeting which are held the first and third Thursday of each month. Tonight each member is asked to bring a guest and their wives will be welcome at this meeting and also at all others of the society.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge Jan. 9.—Dr. C. F.
Sawman wishes to announce to the public that after January 6th 1919, an extra charge will be made for all night calls.

Jesse K. Hornbeck has gone to Lakeview, N. J., for the winter.
The annual installation of the officers of Stone Ridge Grange will be held in the Grange Hall on Thursday evening, January 16. State Master Lowell will be the installing officer.
At the close of the ceremony a supper will be served to the members of the Grange and their invited guests.

The Fragrant Weed.

The use of tobacco was first discovered in America when Columbus in 1492, sent his first party to explore the island of Cuba. It was first observed that these herbs were burned and carried by the natives to perfume themselves. It was later discovered that these herbs were also used for chewing, and later as America was opened up and explored, it was observed that they were smoked in large quantities.

to be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock, the business session will be followed by an address of unusual interest. The speaker will be the Rev. Leighton Williams, D. D., rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, this city, and he will talk to those present on the subject of "The Opportunity of the Y. M.
C. A. in the Present Industrial Crisis." All women of the city are invited to be present and hear Dr.
Williams.

The Milky Way.

The arch of the Milky Way stretches across the evening sky from east to west, rising between Orion and Gemini, where Jupiter seems a gorgeous diamond depending from its belt, passing through the golden chain of Castropeia in the zenith, and descending to the western horizon between Vega, the dazzling gem in Apollo's lyre.

We had to keep in trim, so we done a little light drilling, about four or five hours a day. I had a Thanksgiving dinner here, chicken, can you imagine it? December 2 we started out once again, stopped at Wor-melingen over night. I slept in with the postmaster here. December 3 we started out again for Coz and Karthaus we crossed into Germany at Wellen on the Moselle river, at Karthaus. A sergeant and I slept in bed. We met some children and I spoke to them when they found out that I could speak their language they would not let me get out of their sight. I simply had to come to their home. Their parents had supper for us and sat up quite late and we had quite a nice evening here. December 4 we left Karthaus for Quint, on the way to Quint I was picked for an interpreter and had to go ahead of the company to get billets for the men. We are here doing guard duty for a little while. Last night the Burgemeister invited me over to his house, he had some good smokes and treated me with a few of them. We get along very good here.
Well I guess this is about the longest letter that I have written, but you see I had to make up, for I received four all at once from you. I think I will close, hoping this finds you well and happy. I remain your loving son, FRANK
Co. M, 51st Pioneer Infantry.

P. S.—I received a letter from Aunt Anna from Seattle, Wash.

Packs Are Too Heavy.

Beatrice Adams, of 106 Pearl street, has received the following letter from her brother, Ray Adams, member of Co. F, 51st Pioneer Infantry, who was a drafted man from this city, and has been with the American Expeditionary Force in France for some time.

Dear Sister—I received your letter and was glad to hear from you.

We have been on a long hike. We are following the Germans back to their line. We walk about fifteen miles a day and we have walked about seventy miles. We have been hiking about ten days. We have been three days and rest one. I think we are going into Germany and if we do we will sure see some of the country.
We have seen a lot of France.
We have been up to the front for three months and under fire for two weeks. We went through Alsace-Lorraine. This is a part of the country that Germany took away from the French in 1871. They have held this part of the country for fifty years. The young people speak German and the older ones speak French. All the villages and towns we march through were decorated with big cedar arches with American and French flags. When we started on the hike we had to carry three blankets, two extra pair of socks, one pair of shoes, two extra suits of underwear, gas mask, steel helmets and gun, all together about 80 pounds, but the boys started to throw some of their things away. I think they have all thrown away their gas mask and helmet. Some of the boys left their whole pack behind. The last three days, they have carried two of our blankets on the wagons. We are in a small country, by the name of Luxembourg. This country was neutral during war. We are in one of the select armies to go to Germany. Today is Thanksgiving and I sure did miss my home-made pie and turkey. I suppose by the time you receive this letter it will be Christmas so I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Tell mother not to worry and take good care of herself. I will close for this time with lots of love and kisses to mother and sister. From your loving brother,
RAY ADAMS,
Co. F, 51st Pioneer Infantry,
A. E. F.

GERMANS AND POLES TALK ARMISTICE

By Telegram to The Freeman. Amsterdam, Jan. 9.—Negotiations have been opened between the German and the leaders of the advancing Polish army in Posen province. To avoid further useless bloodshed, said a dispatch from Frankfurt today, quoting the Zeitung.

It was reported from Berlin at the same time, however, that a German volunteer army engaged the Poles in battle at Kolmar and succeeded in occupying the place.

SOCIETY NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Terwilliger, of No. 325 East Union street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Principal Raymond Van Valkenburgh of Schenectady, No. 4.

The buffet luncheon served to the guests of the Everett and Treadwell Company yesterday in the Y. M. C. A., was prepared under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Powley of the Ladies' Auxiliary, assisted by the wives of the employees of the company.

A baby shower was held at the home of Mrs. Emil Schoenfeld, to Dorothy Melinda Schoenfeld. Those present were Mrs. P. Schroder, Mrs. P. Ehlers, Mrs. M. Stult, Mrs. J. Haas, Mrs. H. Peters, Mrs. E. Schoenfeld, Mrs. L. Stult, Mrs. M. Bode, Mrs. M. Schoenfeld, Mrs. M. Haas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Terwilliger of High Falls, announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen G., to F. Homer Terwilliger, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Terwilliger, of 325 East Union street. Mr. Terwilliger has recently been honorably discharged from the service and is a very popular young man.

The Winners Class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Harry Pinder last evening and were royally entertained by their host. The evening presentation gave the yearly report of the class and among other interesting things stated that the chicken pie supper recently given netted a total of $114.

Last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gronowyer, at 81 Haverstreet was the scene of a delightful gathering of the younger folk of the city when Miss Laura Gronowyer entertained a number of her friends and fellow salesladies of the G. A. Hart Company. Throughout the evening the guests were delighted with various unique contests of skill in the better way of entertaining in institutional selections, aesthetic dancing and vocal numbers. The Misses Loretta Moran and Kathryn Frieot and Miss Laura Gronowyer held the guests in wonderment with their beautiful singing of "Beautiful Ohio." Something exclusive was the Hawaiian dance cleverly reproduced by Miss Ethel Moran in native costume. At 11:30 a delicious and bountiful repast was served by the hostess in the spacious dining room of the home and it was plainly evident that the "goodies" were enjoyed by all.

A. Frieot as previously predicted by those present proved the champion ice cream indulger with very little competition. Following the repast dancing was in order and continued until the guests departed this morning all satisfied that they had enjoyed the time of their lives. Those present to participate in the evening's fun were the Misses Hannah Harris, Laura Gronowyer, Daisy Dempsey, Ethel Moran, Loretta Moran, Mildred Lasher, Margaret Lasher, Kathryn Frieot, Millie Gronowyer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frieot and Mr. and Mrs. Gronowyer; the Messrs. Carl Naylor, Thomas Shannon, John Lynch, John Haloun, Eltinge Salisbury, Robert Hendry and Charles Fisher.

HOMEMADE PORTABLE GRANARY IS USEFUL

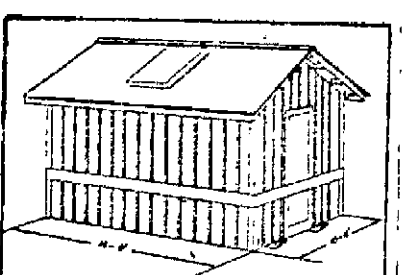

Handy for Storage Products Other Than Grain Crops.

Wooden Structure, 10 by 14 Feet, Has Capacity of 600 Bushels of Grain — Easily Moved From One Place to Another.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Prohibitive prices due to a scarcity of galvanized material have vastly restricted the farm use of the standard commercial types of portable granaries. But the division of rural engineering of the bureau of public works, United States department of agriculture, has come to the farmers' relief with work plans, specifications and bills of material of a practicable portable granary which the individual farmer can build himself or can have built by a local carpenter.

The blueprint shown served to the guests of the Everett and Treadwell Company yesterday in the Y. M. C. A., was prepared under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Powley of the Ladies' Auxiliary, assisted by the wives of the employees of the company.

Practicable Portable Granary.

built by a local carpenter. These plans will be sent free on request to any farmer in the United States.

This portable wooden granary is 10 by 14 feet in floor dimensions and 14 inches to the eaves, with a capacity for 600 bushels of grain. It is built on skids or runners which permit of moving it from place to place by tractor or horse power. It is of such a height that it can be set near the separator during the threshing operation, so that the grain can be deposited directly into storage. This eliminates the services of one or two wagons and their crews which otherwise would be necessary in transferring the grain from the machine to the storage bins. In addition, the portable granary is available for the storage of other farm produce or supplies when it is not needed as a grain container.

SAVE SUPPLY OF FLAXSEED

Wise Policy for Farmer to Resist High Prices and Keep Enough Seed for Next Year.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Present high prices for flaxseed will tempt many farmers to sell all they have. This will be especially true in the sections where last year's drought was severe and crop production small. Now is the time, however, to resist the temptation of fancy prices and to save enough good seed for next year. Always use the flaxseed mill, for flaxseed sometimes carries serious flax diseases, and mustard seed left in it will cause a beautiful yellow flax, even though all that yellow is not gold. The bright, clean, heavy seed left after thorough fanning will be most free from disease.

Store your seed in a dry place, for it has much in its overcoat and sticks like glue if it gets wet. Remember your neighbor when fanning flax; for he may need some of your seed. It will help him as well as your community if he gets good seed from you, instead of using the poor seed which he may have to buy if he waits until seedling time next spring. If you have good seed for sale, tell your county agent and your state extension director. Owners of good seed of wilt-resistant strains should try to sell it only for seed purposes, rather than to let it go to the elevator to be sold for all making, as farmers have not been able during the last two years to buy enough seed of wilt-resistant strains.

OUTLET OF BIG IMPORTANCE

Minnesota Expert Urges That It Be Protected With Concrete Abutment and Screened.

(By H. S. Bee, Assistant Professor in Agricultural Engineering, University Farm, St. Paul.)

The outlet is of the first importance in the drainage. There must be a clear fall away from it. Submerged outlets, so-called, are not outlets. They still leave that land undrained where the tile lies below the level of the water at the outlet.

An outlet right, purchased, through another man's land is usually worth what it costs. Protect your outlet with a concrete abutment. Screen it against the entrance of birds and animals.

BOYS GROW MUCH WHEAT

Fifteen Thousand Respond to Call to Produce Much Needed Bread. Making Crop.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Reports coming to the states relations service of the United States department of agriculture, estimate the estimated acreage of wheat in the 15 southern states. These states in the South took up wheat growing only a year ago, at which time there was an enrollment of only 2,839 members who were growing this crop.

Doing Well

That was doing in his field which turned out a very much needed crop. A judgment, looking over the crop, showed that he was doing very well. He was doing very well. He was doing very well.

CUPID'S DAYDREAM

By MARY J. HAYES.

"What right has this man to upset my house and induce my wife into a public life, when her duty is with her husband and baby?" thundered Mr. Merrill as he threw his paper aside and jumped up from the Morris chair.

"But, Alec," his wife pleaded, "I'm just tired of this dingy little place, and baby is whining all the time. Mr. Card has made arrangements for my first appearance on next Tuesday evening. Mother is coming over in the morning to take baby, and I shall manage to get into the city before dinner and rehearse with Mr. Card in the afternoon."

"My dear girl, you are making a blind mistake in heeding this man's advice. You will be so—" "It is useless," interrupted Marie. "For you to try to alter my plans, for when my mind is set I mean to carry it out."

Alec crossed the room and stood in front of the French window. The moon lit up his face as he glanced out upon his acres of golden wheat and corn.

"So Mr. Card has succeeded at last," he was thinking. "Yes, his own little innocent Marie had been persuaded by this miserable wretch. All his happiness was to be ruined, his little cottage, all his newly found joys and comfort of farm life, and baby—what was to become of him? He would grow up without a mother's love and care."

At length he turned toward where his wife had been standing, but she was not there. Shutting off the light, he went upstairs. As he passed her door he stopped. Perhaps at this very moment she was packing. Would he knock? No, he mustn't. He would let her carry out her plans, as she said, and perhaps some day she would realize her fault and come back to him.

The next evening found Marie in a handsome chamber in one of the most fashionable hotels of the city. She was thinking over the events of the day. She had met and rehearsed with Professor Card as had been arranged, and he had told her of the remarkable talent she possessed. Never before had she realized it. As she sat staring at all the luxuries about her she acknowledged to herself how wrong she had been in partaking of such things that were all so unnatural to her; but her heart, swelling with pride, rebelled against these thoughts.

Every morning for nearly a week she spent with a dressmaker. Her afternoons were given for rehearsals, and in the evenings she joined Mr. Card in theater parties and dances. The night before her performance she retired early. These new excitements were all too much for her, and she lay awake thinking of baby and Alec, and how she longed to be with them now.

The next morning she arose earlier than usual, having spent a restless night. As she stood before the long mirror, the dressmaker's skilled fingers worked busily with her costume, she longed for her husband and baby and heaved a sigh of relief when the garment was finished and carefully tucked in her wardrobe. That afternoon she spent rehearsing, and at 8 o'clock with Mr. Card, seven o'clock found her very much excited and nervous. Later in the evening Mr. Card called to accompany her to the theater.

Matter of Gender

The bell of a Scottish church was giving out a very poor tone, and a committee was appointed to inquire as to what was wrong and to report on the best means of putting it right. After an examination the members were divided in their opinion, and the clerk officer, who was in attendance with the keys, was asked his view. "Fine. A bonn' what's wrong wi' the bell," he remarked. "It's a shee-yin!" meaning that it was of the feminine gender. Pressed to explain, he added: "It's tongue's over long—it's needin' to be clipped!" And this turned out to be really the fault. The tongue and became loosened to the extent of an inch or so, and was overlapping the curve at the rim, and therefore not striking truly.

Foundation of Brotherhood

To better our social conditions we need close thoughts, careful study, a diligent application of the best methods, but at last without faith in the eternal foundations there can be no final adjustment of social difficulties, and all earthly wisdom is but as sounding brass and clanging cymbals."—Dr. Samuel Smith.
